But they have got over it quickly enough and are again one of the favourites for promotion giving their new manager Brian Horton a tremendous start.

Our matches against Hull last season — two draws — were set alight by a superb individual goal by Jeff Chandler — a goal I wished had been recorded on film as it would have graced any First Division match.

I managed a night off last Friday and along with a few million others I was quite disappointed at the entertainment value of the televised Chelsea v Everton game.

After the Third Division, along with the Second and Fourth had been written off in a national newspaper by Jimmy Greaves and Malcolm Macdonald I would suggest that one day they go along to a Third Division game before offering any future opinions on our standard of football.

The most surprising comment from the two was the one Greaves made about the Third Division managers who go around moaning all day with a chip on their shoulder wishing they were in a better job.

Nothing would give me greater pleasure than achieving more success but I give everything I know to try to provide Bolton with a side that will both entertain and get results. I have been in football for 18 years and I have only achieved that distinction plus a number of honours through hard work and determination.

Like everyone else in the lower divisions my ultimate goal is to get into the First Division. And it is no lack of ambition or effort that will stop me from achieving that aim.

PICS BY BOLTON EVENING NEWS

Today I would like to welcome another of the high flyers of last season — Hull City who had the traumatic experience of missing promotion by just one goal!

I don't think there can be a worse way of losing out after a nine month season and having the cake in front of you, as Hull did, before having it snatched away from you in the last match.

HULL CITY UNLUCKY HULL HAVE HIGH HOPES

From: Tony Pullein

Hull City last season had the galling experience of being robbed of promotion by the narrowest margin in Football League history. It was so close that Hull finished with the same points and identical goal difference to Sheffield United. The Blades got the verdict only because they had scored more goals.

The Tigers, who had finished runners-up in Division Four twelve months earlier, challenged strongly for further promotion right up until the closing seconds of last season. When Sheffield United's fixtures were completed, Hull still had one game to play.

They knew exactly what they had to do if they were to return to the Second Division after an absence of six years — they had to win away to Burnley by at least three goals.

But, of course, it's easier said than done. Though there was no pressure upon Burnley, they had their pride to play for.

The prospect of achieving that target looked bright indeed when Brian Marwood scored for Hull after only two minutes. And, when the same player scored again in the 67th minute, hearts started to miss beats. Sadly, the Tigers could do no more.

Marwood moved on to Sheffield Wednesday in the summer when manager Colin Appleton also decided it was time for a new challenge with Swansea City.

Hull chose wisely in appointing a successor. Brian Horton still has much energy, vision and skill to offer as a player in midfield and he is ambitious to succeed in the managerial field.

Though he signed young midfield player Neil Williams from Watford during the summer, Mr Horton was expected to give his existing squad the chance to launch another promotion challenge this season.

They started well with a goalless draw at Lincoln, where they returned a few days later to win 2-0 in the first-leg of the Milk Cup.

Last Saturday they won 3-0 at home to Bournemouth.

In addition to their success in the Third Division last season, Hull City reached the final of the Associate Members Cup. After battling through the rounds, Hull defeated Tranmere Rovers 4-1 in the final of the Northern Section. But in the national final, they were beaten 1-2 at home by Bournemouth.

Last season, they were knocked out in the first round of the Milk Cup by Lincoln — a defeat they were hoping to avenge this week in the current competition.

After winning at Penrith in the first round of the F.A. Cup, Hull went out 1-2 at Rotherham in the next stage.

Hull City F.C. was formed in 1904 and elected to the Second Division of the Football League a year later. Until 1981 the Tigers had spent their entire career commuting between the Second and Third Divisions. The closest they got to the First Division was in 1910 when they finished third in Division Two. In 1930 they appeared in the semi-final of the F.A. Cup.

Perhaps the most successful era in League football followed their election in 1905. They missed promotion to the First Division on goal-average in 1910 and remained a Second Division club until 1930. After that they switched divisions regularly but, after promotion in 1966, they re-established themselves at Second Division level.

They held their place for 12 years. Relegation to the Third Division in 1978 was followed by their first-ever spell of Fourth Division play in 1981.

But their depression bottomed out and in 1983 they gained promotion back to Division Three.

TONY NORMAN (Goalkeeper). Tony didn't manage to get into the first team at Burnley but a £30,000 transfer to Hull five seasons ago gave him the chance he wanted.

BOBBY McNEIL (Defender). Bobby comes from Northern Ireland but he served his apprenticeship with Hull and made his League debut four seasons ago. He celebrated his 100th League appearance last season.

PETER SKIPPER (Defender). Peter was discovered in local football in February 1979 but was playing in Hull's League team a month later. He was sold to Darlington for £10,000 in 1980 but Hull re-signed him two years later in a £6,000 deal.

DALE ROBERTS (Defender). Dale, a former England youth international, was a member of Ipswich's FA Youth Cup winning team of 1973 and 1975. He made a couple of dozen first team appearances for the Portman Road club and Hull invested £60,000 in his transfer in 1980.

GARY SWANN (Midfield/Defender). Gary is yet another former Hull apprentice to succeed in League soccer. He made the senior side three seasons ago and can play in midfield or defence.

MIKE HOLLIFIELD (Defender). Mike was one of Wolves' successful apprentices who got his chance in their senior team during 1980/81. He made 21 League appearances for the Molineux club and was transferred to Hull at the beginning of last season.

STAN McEWAN (Midfield). Stan was signed from Exeter last season. He served his apprenticeship with Blackpool, making well over 200 League appearances for the Tangerines before joining Exeter in 1982.

BRIAN HORTON (Midfield). Brian took over as the Tigers player-manager this summer following three great seasons with Luton, where he was their inspiration in midfield. He began his League career with Port Vale in 1970 and played more than 250 senior games before joining Brighton for £30,000 in 1976. He played a vital role in the Seagulls' rise from the Third to the First Division before transferring to Luton for £100,000 in 1981.

GARRETH ROBERTS (Midfield). Garreth is a local lad who joined the club from school. He made his League debut in 1978/79 and is now approaching his 200th game in League football.

STEVE McLAREN (Midfield). Steve is another Hull discovery who went through his apprenticeship at Boothferry Park. Introduced to League soccer in 1980, Steve has been a regular for the past four seasons.

BILLY ASKEW (Midfield). Billy spent his early days with Middlesbrough, making a dozen League appearances for the Ayresome Park club. He thought his League days were over when Middlesbrough released him in 1981 and he joined non-League Gateshead. But Hull signed him at the start of the 1982/83 season when he made 36 League appearances in their Fourth Division promotion-winning side.

BILLY WHITEHURST (Forward). Billy was signed from Mexborough in October 1980 and quickly won a place in the Hull side. He celebrated his 100th League game last season when he scored 11 times.

ANDY FLOUNDERS (Forward). Andy was only 16 when he made his first League appearance against Oxford in 1980. He has become a consistent scorer over the past two seasons, netting 10 times last term.

STEVE MASSEY (Forward). Steve, who was signed from Northampton in 1983, began his League career with Stockport in 1975 and moved on to Bournemouth three years later. In 1981 he moved on to Peterborough but stayed for only a few weeks before signing for Northampton. He was their top scorer with 25 goals in 1982/83.

MIKE RING (Forward). Mike was offered a trial period with the Tigers this summer and he celebrated his League debut with a goal against Bournemouth last Saturday.

In Retrospect

Today's game with the Tigers is the 31st football league meeting between the two clubs. To date the Wanderers have won 12 of the encounters to City's 7.

Season 1908/09 saw the first game between the sides with the Wanderers winning by a single goal from Davie Stokes at Burnden in September, whilst a month later City ran out 2-0 winners at Anlaby Road.

Seasons 1933/34 and 1934/35 gave Hull their best returns from their visits here. A 3-3 draw resulted in March 1933 with the Wanderers goals coming from Milsom, Rimmer and G. T. Taylor whilst exactly a year later Hull registered their only win here to date with a 2-1 scoreline in their favour. Ray Westwood netted Bolton's goal but the result knocked them off the top of the Second Division allowing Brentford to take over.

Bolton's first ever visit to Boothferry Park took place in May 1947 when a Willie Moir goal separated the sides in a game organised to benefit the Bolton disaster fund.

Five consecutive seasons between 1966/67 and 1970/71 saw the sides again face each other in the football league. The Wanderers remained unbeaten at Burnden during this period, winning 4 and drawing in the first scoreless league game between the sides in March 1971.

Season 1967/68 was the most successful for the Wanderers over Hull with both games taking place in August. Firstly doubles from John Byrom, Gordon Taylor and Francis Lee gave Bolton a 6-1 win at Burnden thus producing the most number of goals in a game between the sides then the Wanderers crossed the Pennines and completed the double with a 2-1 win. John Byrom and Francis Lee scored for Bolton with Chris Simpkin netting for Hull past Wanderers keeper Alex Smith who was getting a rare game between the posts due to an injury to Eddie Hopkinson. This result still remains as Bolton's only league win at Boothferry Park to date although a 2-0 win in October 1934 was registered at City's previous ground Anlaby Road.

Again five consecutive seasons between 1973/74 and 1977/78 saw the sides face to face with the Wanderers again winning 4 and drawing 1 at Burnden in the sequence. The best performance came in September 1976 when the Wanderers won 5-1. After 55 minutes the game had produced no goals but a piece of magic from winger Peter Thompson set up Neil Whatmore to open Bolton's account. Six minutes later Paul Jones headed home a Roy Greaves corner and after 70 minutes Steve Taylor scored with Thompson again the provider. Taylor made it 4-0 before David Stewart pulled one back for Hull but Paul Jones completed the scoring five minutes from time. A damp crowd of 12,495 saw the following sides:—

Bolton: Siddall, Ritson, Dunne, Greaves, P. Jones, Allardyce, Morgan, Whatmore, Taylor, Reid, Thompson. Sub: Smith.

Hull: Wealands, Daniel, De Vries, Haugh, Hawley, Croft, Nisbet, Lyall, Sunley, Himmerman, Stewart. Sub: Galvin.

Last season's encounters saw the first game between the sides outside of the Second Division. Both games ended in draws with the one at Hull being the fourth consecutive draw between the sides there. At Burnden on a wet and windy night a crowd of 6,397 saw a scoreline game which left Hull on top of the league.

At Hull, the Wanderers opened the scoring in the 70th minute with a spectacular Jeff Chandler effort when he rounded three defenders before curling his shot into the net. Ten minutes later Bolton's defence finally cracked when Dale Roberts shot home a Billy Askew cross to keep Hull in with a promotion chance after having sustained two defeats in a week.

Our record against Hull in the football league is as follows:—

	PL	W	D	L	F	A
Home	15	10	4	1	27	11
Away	15	2	7	6	13	19
Total	30	12	11	7	40	30

In the cup competitions the Wanderers have a 100% record. Victories were earned in the F.A. Cup in 1915, 1924 (after a replay) and 1961 whilst the sides faced each other in the first ever league cup competition in 1960/61 with Bolton winning 5-1 in a first round replay.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

15 Years ago. 3rd September 1969. Third Division Rotherham United came to Burnden for a second round League Cup tie and after the nine goal thriller with Rochdale in the previous round the game was an anti-climax ending goalless. Dave Hatton played his last game for the Wanderers, signing for Blackpool the following day for £40,000.

6th September 1969. Back to the Second Division and a visit from Birmingham City. John Hulme made his first appearance of the season in the middle of the defence for the injured Charlie Hurley and the Wanderers ran out 2-0 winners with goals from John Byrom and substitute Gordon Taylor.

9th September 1969. The Wanderers visited Rotherham for the League Cup replay and the clubs were still not separated after extra time the result being 3-3 before a crowd of 7,924. Two days later again at Millmoor the attendance jumped to 9,018 to see Trevor Womble score a first half winner for the Yorkshiremen.

13th September 1969. Another trip over the Pennines to Hull City with an unchanged side from the cup defeat, saw the Wanderers go down 4-2 despite leading at half time. John Byron and Roy Greaves had given Bolton that advantage but goals from Chris Chilton (2), Ken Wagstaffe and Ian Butler saw a dramatic second half turnabout.

10 Years ago. 7th September 1974. A freak goal from Brian Drysdale gave Bristol City a 2-1 win over the Wanderers at Ashton Gate. His cross was caught by the wind leaving Barry Siddall stranded. This came after John Ritson had given Bolton the lead and Don Gillies had equalised for City. Steve Taylor made his league debut for Bolton coming on for Garry Jones.

11th September 1974. The Wanderers and Norwich City played out a dull scoreless game at Burnden in the 2nd round of the League Cup.

Hugh Curran was signed from Oxford United for a £40,000 fee.

14th September 1974. Bolton slipped to their first home defeat of the season to Sheffield Wednesday whose winner came from Bobby Brown after 8 minutes. Paul Jones headed home a Ron Phillips corner only for referee Jack Taylor to blow for time as the ball came over.

Hugh Curran made his Wanderers debut in place of Garry Jones and Ron Phillips replaced another off form forward, Neil Whatmore.

5 Years ago. 8th September 1979. West Bromwich who were still looking for their first win of the season took a point from a scoreless game at Burnden. Jim McDonagh kept Bolton in the game with spectacular saves from Tony Brown and Bryan Robson.

11th September 1979. The Wanderers played Malawi in a friendly at Chorley. Keeper Dave Felgate made his first team debut in a 3-1 win on a damp night before a 1,301 crowd. Dandize opened the scoring for the tourists but Bolton came back with goals from Tad Nowak, Roy Greaves and a Frank Worthington penalty.

15th September 1979. Bolton collapsed to Coventry City at Highfield Road with striker Ian Wallace doing the damage. He put the Midlands one up after 8 minutes and his shot early in the second half was handled by Wanderers full back Dave Clement. Barry Powell converted the penalty but Wallace got his second in the 63rd minute when he headed home a Hutchison cross.

Willie Morgan got a consolation goal for the Wanderers in the 82nd minute from a goalmouth scramble to leave Coventry 3-1 winners.

Chris Thompson made his league debut for Bolton coming on as substitute for Peter Nicholson.

IN RESERVE

The Wanderers Reserves had a mixed bag of results in their pre-season friendlies. A 4-2 defeat was sustained at Rochdale Reserves with the Bolton goals coming from Roger Walker and a Paul Lodge piledriver.

This was followed with a 2-0 win at Bolton combination side Scotts Park United with Paul Lodge again on the mark with a shot from the edge of the penalty area, the second coming from Paul Crooks.

A visit to North West Counties side Chadderton saw another victory in a tough game by 2-1, the goals that evening coming from trialist Dave Leonard and Dean Roberts.

The Youth and Junior sides also played a number of games their results were as follows:—

Salford (1-3), Chadderton (5-2), Daisy Hill (2-1), Penwortham Rovers (5-1), Blackburn Rovers (6-0), Paul Crooks getting a hat-trick, Salford (2-2), Radcliffe (3-4) and Manchester United (0-5). All games were played away from home.

The Central League Second Division programme opened on 29th August when Rotherham United visited Burnden Park.

The Wanderers played an interesting formation with a sweeper and two attacking full backs.

The first half was pretty even with any chances being saved by two experienced keepers. John Platt for Bolton and Alan Stevenson for Rotherham.

The opening minute of the second half saw Paul Crooks miss a simple chance from 8 yards out but he redeemed himself in the 69th minute when he blasted home a Roger Walker cross.

Five minutes later Dean Roberts finished a delightful move involving Peter Valentine and Paul Crooks with a rasping left foot shot into the roof of the net.

The goals were now coming thick and fast as two minutes later Wayne Foster was put clear by Simon Rudge and he coolly slotted home.

The final goal of the evening came just a minute later to complete a four goal spell in the space of ten minutes. Roger Walker who was the Wanderers man of the match was again the creator and his cross was tapped in by Paul Crooks.

Team: Platt, Walker, Valentine, Booth, McElhinney, Roberts, J. Darby, Foster, Rudge, Lodge, Crooks. Sub: Watson.

POST MARATHON PIE AND PINT

There will be a post marathon pie and pint evening in the Players Lounge here at the ground on Monday September the 10th. It will commence approximately 8 p.m. after the normal training session has taken place. The cost is £1.00 per head and all Lifeline running group members, relatives and friends are welcome.

SUPPORTERS ASSOCIATION NEWS

After the supporters get-together held in the Executive Suite a couple of weeks ago it was decided that a new supporters badge should be commissioned. Bolton are one of the few clubs in the league without a current supporters badge and work is now under way that should see one available to members in around two months time.

FOOTBALL PROGRAMME FAIR

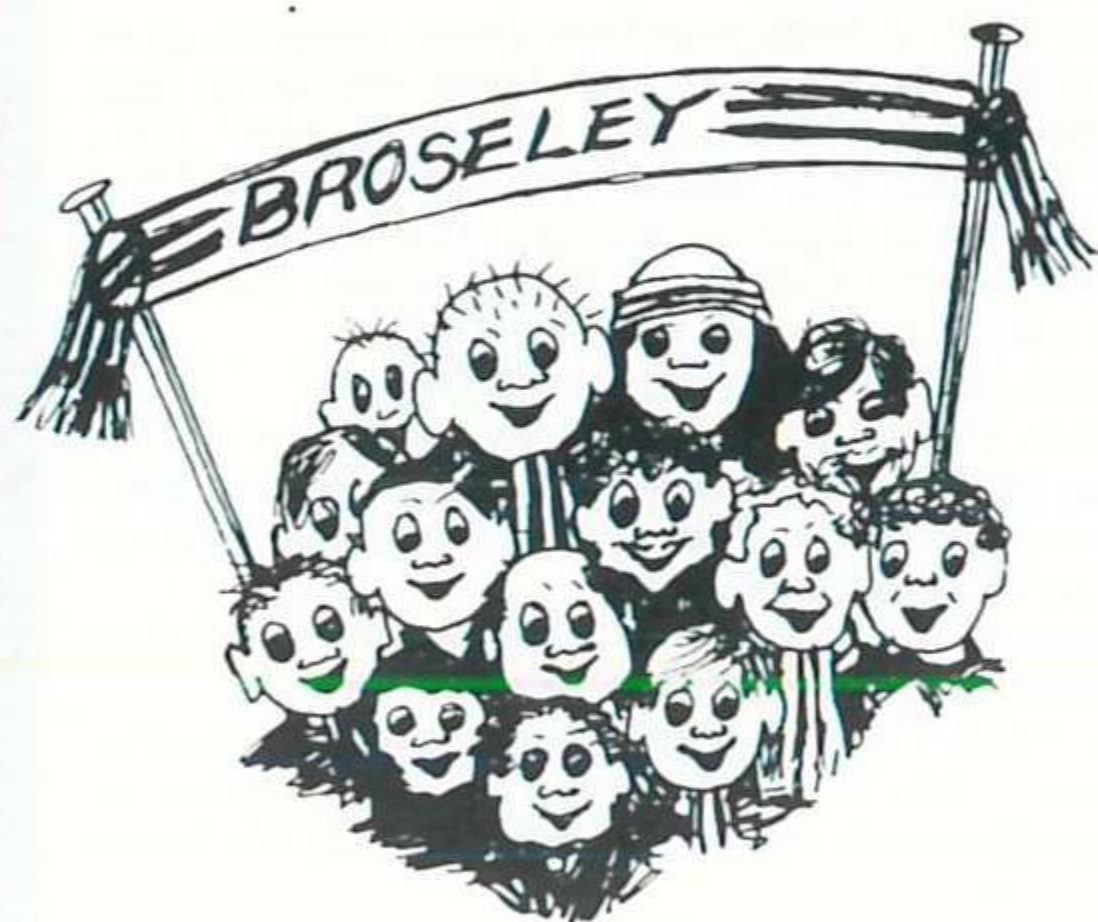

The 10th Annual Bolton Programme Fair will be held at the Pack Horse Hotel, Bradshawgate, Bolton on Sunday 14th October 1984 commencing at 11.00 a.m. Thousands of programmes will be available.

JUNIOR WHITES NEWS

Today's Mascot is John Lee Whittle of Clough Meadow, Lostock, Bolton. John is 8-years-old and attends Lostock Primary School. He trains with the Junior Whites football team on Friday evenings and took part in the Five-A-Side tournament held at Blackburn last season. His favourite player is Gerry McElhinney.

Don't forget the first meeting of the season to be held in the Executive Suite this coming Monday 10th September commencing 6.30 p.m.

Tough draw for the Champions

LIVERPOOL, the Champions, face a tough assignment in the opening round of this season's European Cup competition with a visit to Poland to meet Lech Poznan.

The last team to beat the 'Reds' in this competition was a Polish side, Widzew Lodz, who just lost out on the Polish championship this time to Poznan on goal difference.

The Merseysiders could have hoped for an easier tie to start their defence of the title with particularly as the departure of Graeme Souness and the non-availability of Craig Johnston — in Australia for domestic reasons — during the opening weeks has meant that they have had to reorganise the team somewhat.

However the holders sensational form away from home in the competition last term will give them added confidence for this tough challenge.

The Scottish champions Aberdeen have also had to re-shuffle their pack. Gordon Strachan and Mark McGhee have left Pittodrie and they will sadly be missed. The Scots face seasoned European campaigners in Dynamo Berlin who clinched their sixth successive East German championship title, and this promises to be another difficult tie for the Brits.

At least the Irish are assured of a representative in the second round. Northern Ireland champions Linfield face Shamrock Rovers from Dublin and that should be quite a tussle.

Liverpool's biggest challenge will probably come from the talent packed Juventus side. The Italian's have an easy ticket into the next round, meeting Ilves Tampere, the Finnish amateurs who make their European Cup debut.

West Germany's representatives Stuttgart must also be considered as potential winners of this competition. They won their first Bundesliga Championship since 1952 by squeezing out Hamburg and Borussia Moenchengladbach on goal difference and so enter the competition for the very first time but they have experience of European football having participated in the UEFA Cup in the past.

However the Germans face an awkward first game against Levski Spartak the strong Bulgarian champions in Sofia and they will not find this an easy hurdle to master although they must be favourites.

Benfica the famous Portuguese side have emerged from the shadows in the last couple of years. They went out at the quarter-final stage last season on a 5-1 aggregate to Liverpool after leaving Anfield with only a 1-0 deficit in the first-leg. The Eagles kick-off again away from home in a finely balanced fixture against Red Star Belgrade.

Dinamo Bucharest, who fell to Liverpool at the semi-final stage last season, can not be disregarded either. They have an easy task against Omonia Nicosia the champions of Cyprus while Spain's representatives Bilbao should also progress at the expense of Bordeaux.

The French champions boast the midfield talents of Giresse and Tigana in their side but French clubs have not achieved the same success as their national side in recent years and the Spaniards have the advantage of playing the second-leg on home soil.

Other ties to catch the eye are those between Grasshoppers of Switzerland and Honved of Hungary and Feyenoord against the Greeks from Panathinaikos.

Black Magic

Bobby Robson experimented with young strikers Tony Hateley and Clive Allen during England's summer tour to South America and it must be said that both lads showed considerable promise against Brazil, Uruguay and Chile.

For some time now Ron Greenwood and Bobby Robson have struggled to find a balanced international strike force without much success. The Trevor Francis, Tony Woodcock pairing looked devastating in a friendly game in Spain in 1980 but have never been able to reproduce that form at international level since.

Paul Mariner has proved the most effective striker while the likes of Paul Walsh, Luther Blissett and Brian Stein have been unable to translate their talents into goals.

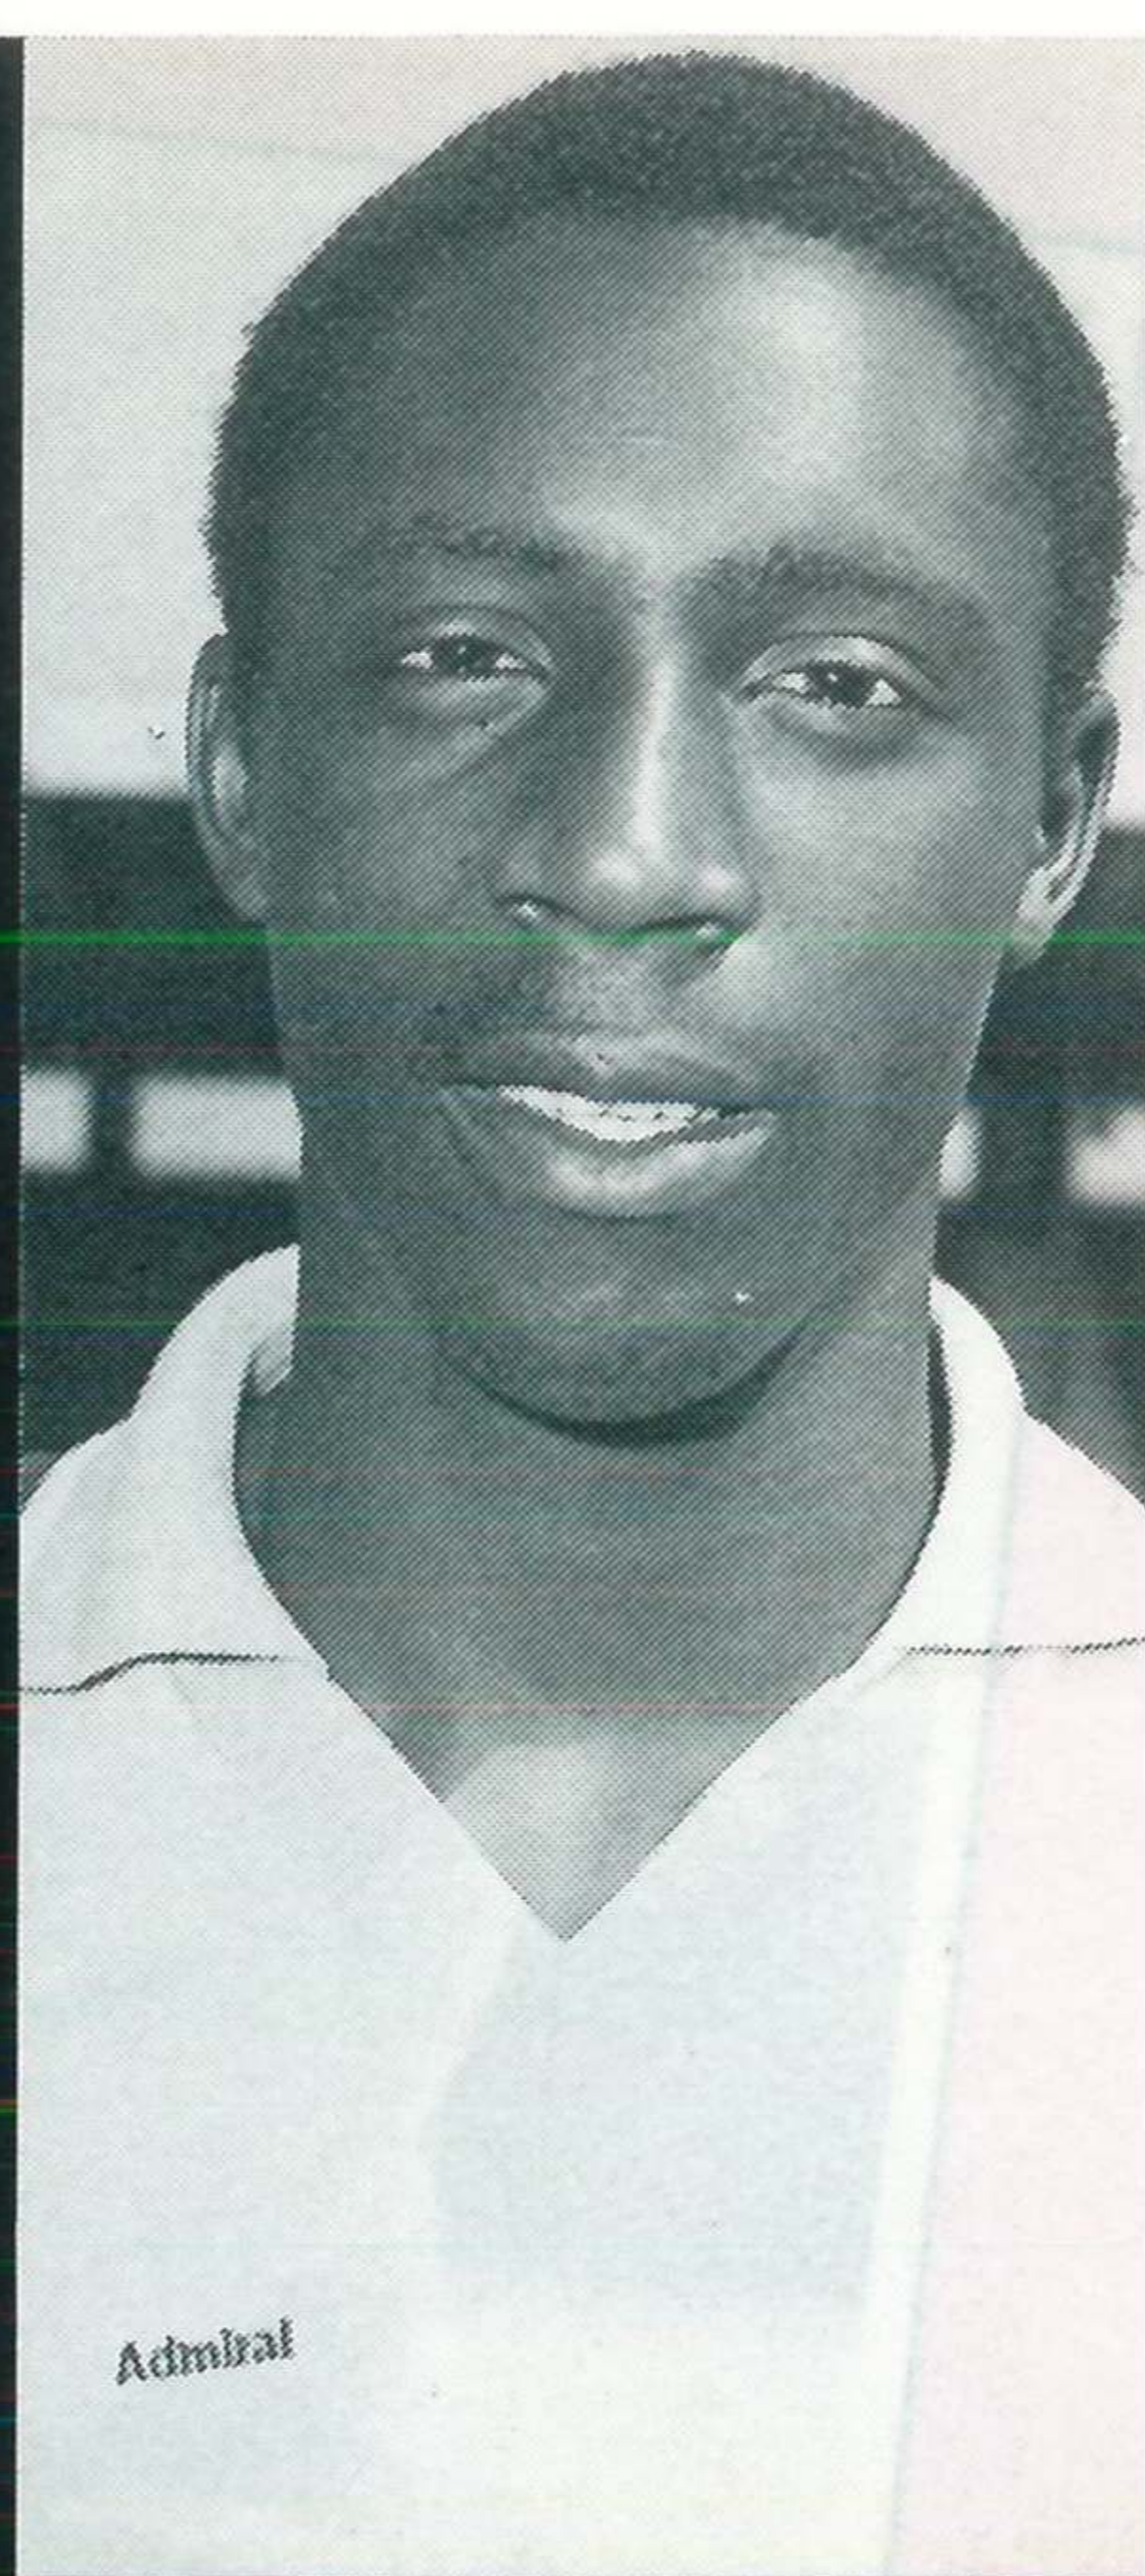

The problem becomes even more acute this season as England embark on their World Cup qualifying rounds and as the issue has not been settled there is a firm belief in the Midlands that Bobby Robson should turn to black magic to cure England's ills.

The black magic referred to is that provided by West Bromwich Albion's coloured striking duet of Regis and Thompson, as powerful a combination as you would care to meet.

Their partnership has been described as 'perfect' like fire and brimstone. Good friends off the field they form a partnership on it that would intimidate the most experienced of defenders.

Cyril Regis, six foot tall, a strong flashingly handsome, bearded French Guyanan, is the guy who floats around. Unpredictable and amazingly fast, 'Smokin Joe' with his thunderous shot has all the attributes of a great striker.

CYRILLE REGIS IN EXPLOSIVE ACTION

GARRY THOMPSON

His partner is another six foot athlete, Garry Thompson, whose physical presence and tremendous power in the air provides the perfect foil. His is more the traditional centre-forward role in the mould of Lawton or Lofthouse, whereas Regis feeds off his well placed knock downs and likes to come from behind.

The two lads have moulded well and both have international aspirations. Cyrille Regis has of course already played four times for England and Garry has been capped at Under-21 level, but both would dearly love to form their club partnership at full international level.

"The past two seasons have been very frustrating for me punctuated by injuries," says Cyrille. "It was a double fracture of the cheekbone at West Ham the season before last then a broken shoulder at Coventry last season."

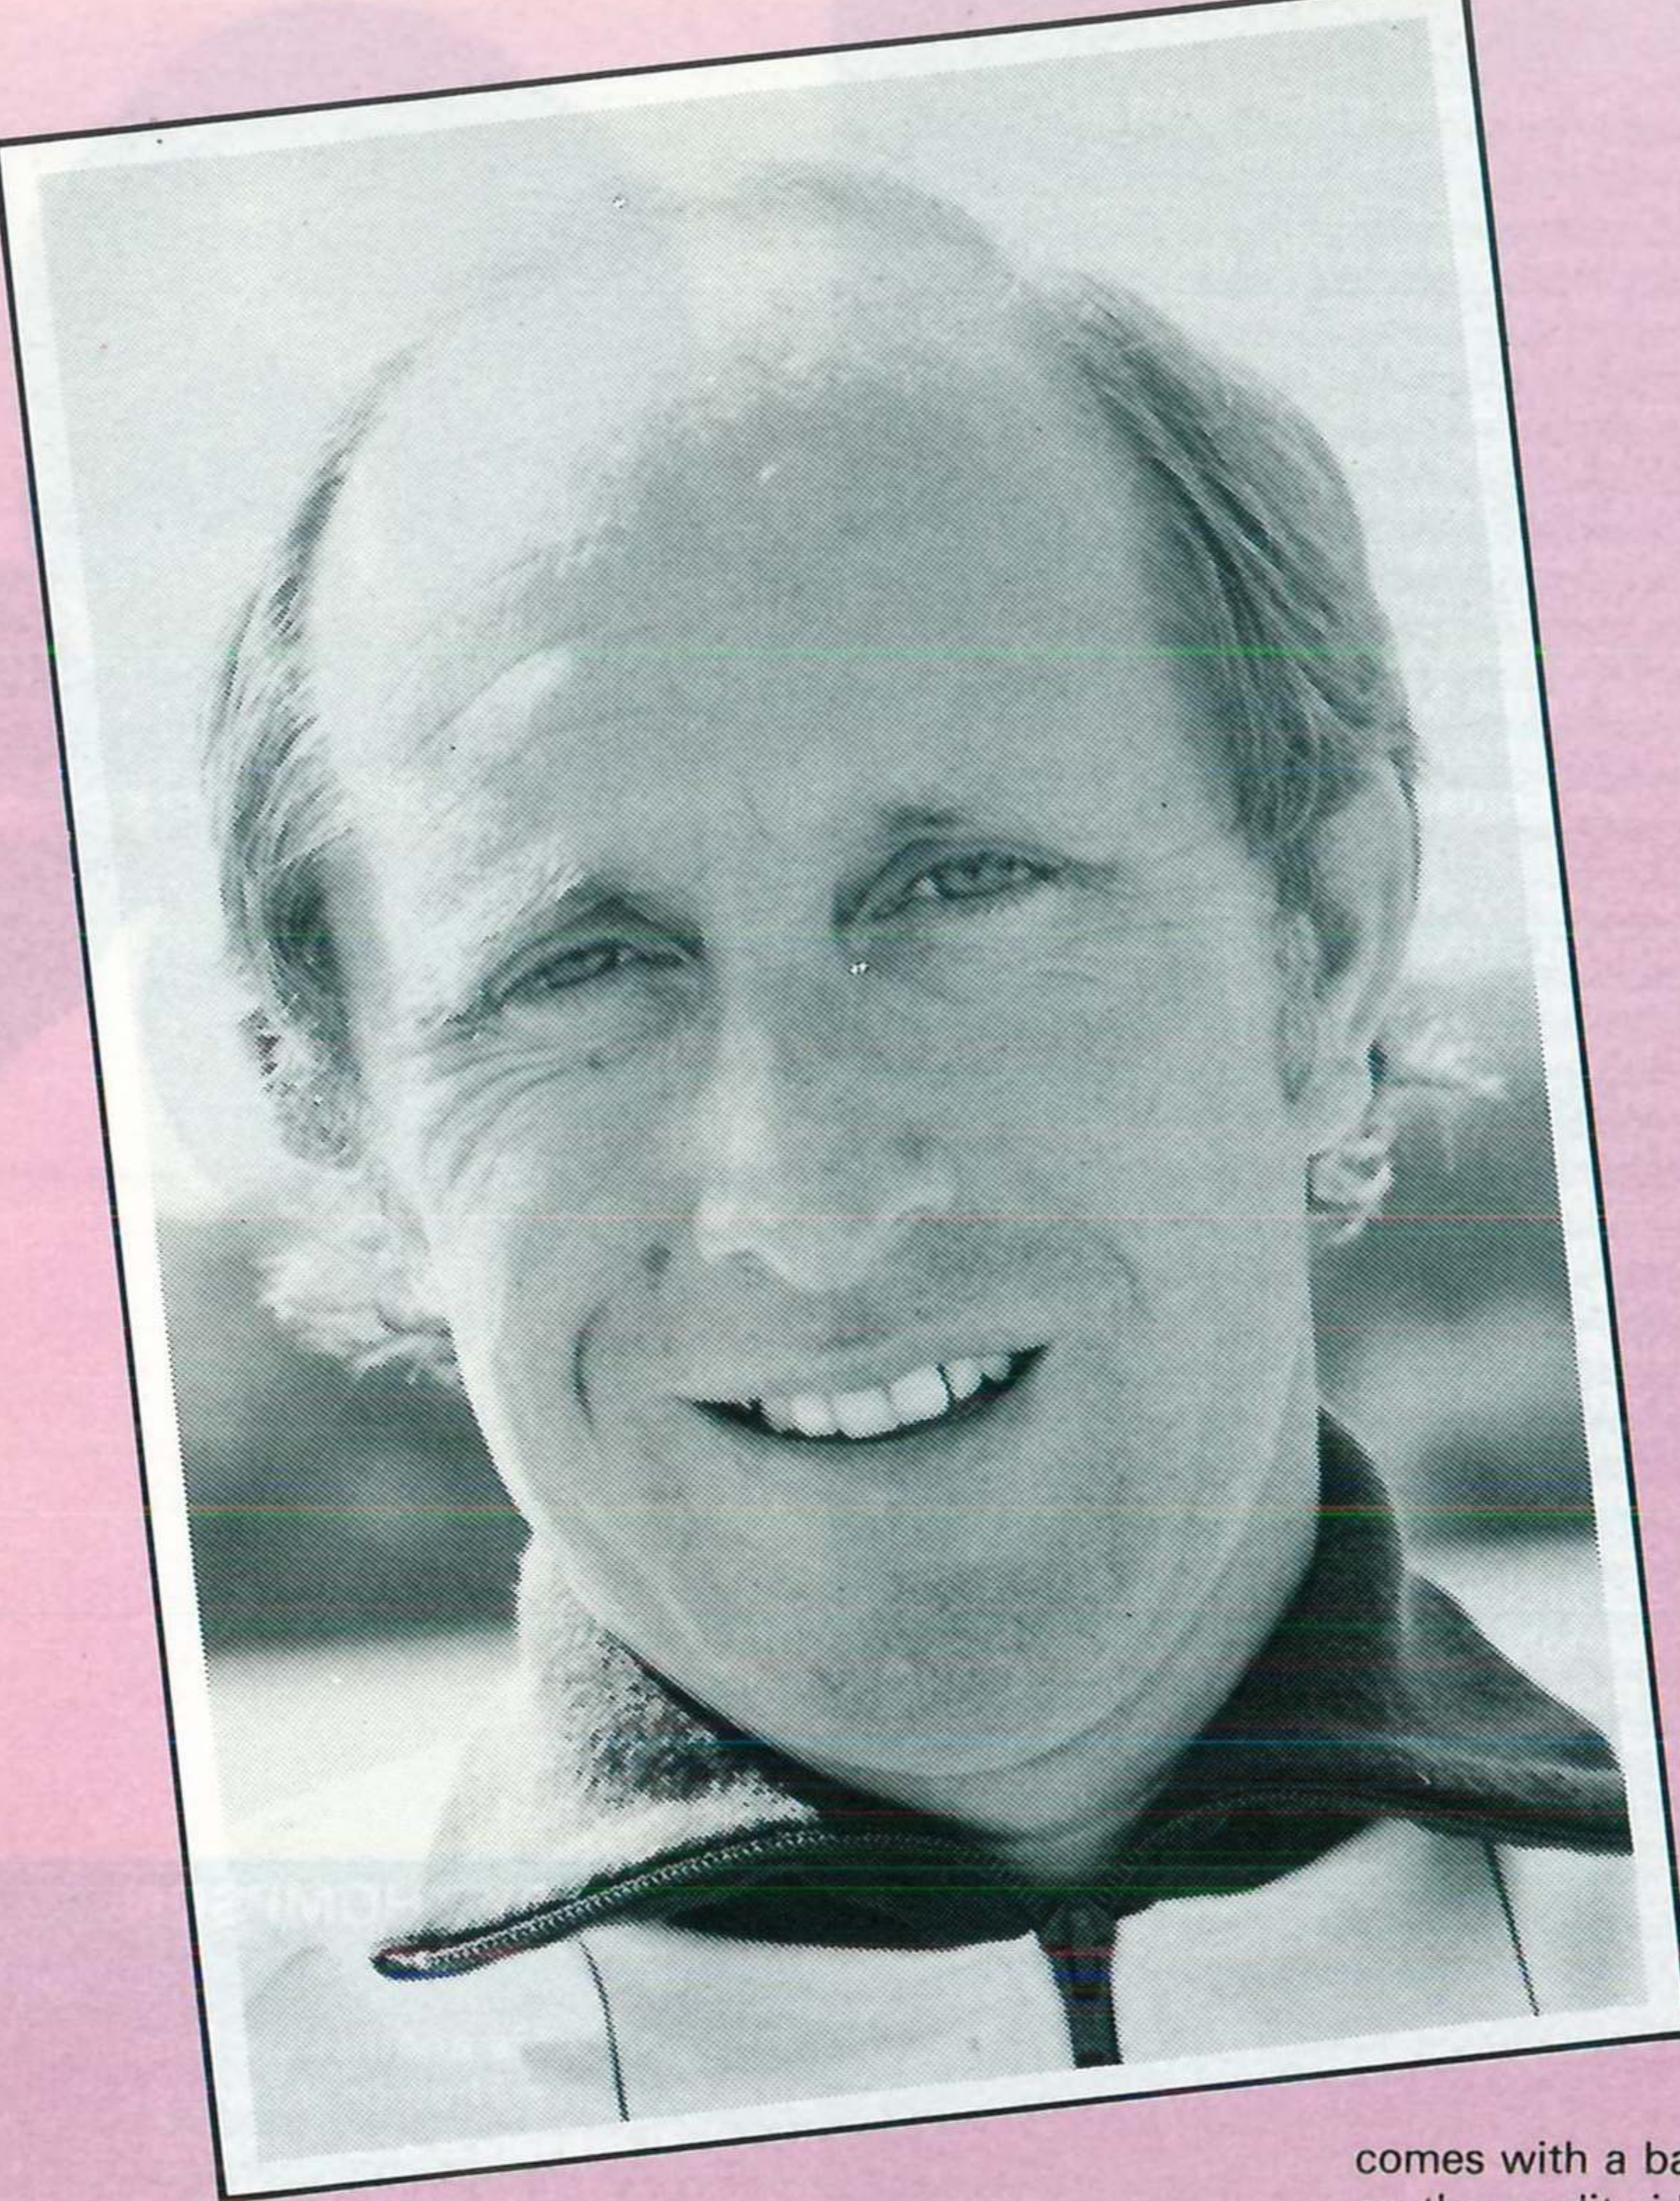

Albion's striking duet know that the only way to earn their national shirts is to score goals at club level and to do this successfully they need an injury free season to cement their partnership and achieve the consistency needed to be at the top.

But even with the problems they have suffered on this count they still remain one of the most devastating and exciting strike forces in First Division football.

SPURS KEEP IT IN THE FAMILY

By Colin Benson

◀ Peter Shreeves the new boss at Spurs

When Keith Burkinshaw announced he was quitting Spurs over a matter of policy last season the whole football world was stunned.

Burkinshaw had led Tottenham with dignity and a refreshing Yorkshire honesty and had a wealth of success to back up his seven year reign in charge. The emotional send off he was given by players and spectators alike on an electrically charged victorious European night at White Hart Lane could not have been more theatrically staged in Hollywood, and it proved just how much respect he had earned.

It is certainly a hard act to follow but sensibly the Tottenham Board did not follow the tact taken by the popular press who sat every big name manager in the game in the vacant seat. Instead they followed the policy so successfully adopted by Liverpool and promoted from within.

Peter Shreeves, a softly spoken, deep thinking knowledgeable coach is now the man in charge of one of the most gifted bunch of professional players in the country, it is a challenge that excites him and inspires him.

"I have worked here as a coach for some time during which we have always had a good reputation for playing football and obviously that will continue," he says.

"The first thing I made clear to the players was that nothing would change as far as I am concerned. I will still be out every day in a tracksuit coaching the players, because that is what I am best at, the only difference is that I will now pick the team, and take the flack that comes with a bad result and take whatever comes my way on the credit side when things go well.

"But I don't see any big problems really. I get on well with the boys and I hope this will continue. Obviously people will be upset somewhere along the line as everyone wants to be in the first team, but the lads are sensible enough to know that you can only pick eleven.

ULTIMATE SAY

"I do not see any reason why my relationships with the playing staff should alter just because I am now the boss. I am still the same person and if players felt they could relay problems to me six months ago I do not really feel that should change and I have actually spoken to the boys on these lines.

"The one basic difference is that I now make the decision on who makes the team and if I have cause to tell an individual that in my opinion he is not doing it at the moment then that would be an area for discussion and I accept that this can affect a relationship slightly.

"When you are actually deciding whether a lad is going to go out to play in front of 40,000 in a match and be a part of all that goes with that or play in the Combination side then some are going to look at me with a sideways glance when they are told they are not in the team that is inevitable."

For Peter Shreeves it has been a testing experience. Tottenham's avid supporters expect success and with Archibald and Brazil taking their leave and a cloud of uncertainty, as to his fitness and future, engulfing Glenn Hoddle, the make up and pattern of the team is still not settled.

The former Reading forward's first major decision was to confirm that he would not be signing Mario Kempes, the Argentinian World Cup hero, who was with Tottenham during their pre-season preparations, but management is not only about making big decisions as Peter was quick to find out.

He says: "In the first week the thing that struck me most was that people in other departments — the reserve section, the youth section and so on — phone me with problems that need an instant decision . . . Although I am fairly good at doing those type of things I wasn't the one who did it last year and that took some adjusting to with the phone ringing from 7.50 a.m. to 11.00 o'clock at night."

"With regard to Glenn Hoddle I have always got on well with him and appreciated his talents and I made it clear to him that I will be delighted, and I underline delighted, if he stays with us, because whenever Tottenham have won things he has been very much a part of it.

"We are really going to have to work hard with Glenn and get him back into goal scoring situations where he was superb a couple of years ago. He lost the knack for one reason or another last season, maybe because of injuries, maybe because he had lost it a little bit, but I will certainly be thrilled to help him improve that area of his game."

SELF MOTIVATION

Peter Shreeves has been very much a part of Tottenham's success over the past four years and he intends to keep the ship sailing on the same course. Inconsistency is the one big problem he must overcome if Spurs are to challenge Liverpool for League honours and he admits "at the moment I do not know the answer to that one.

"Why we should be capable of beating the likes of Bayern Munich well and then the following week lose to a side in the bottom half of the First Division is beyond me. I want to try and solve that problem. We really ought to be in contention for the title from the first week of the season and anything less is second best.

"All I know is that it is hard at times to motivate our boys to go out and run the legs off a team that we should really beat. Yet against the likes of Anderlecht, one of the finest teams we have met, the challenge was there and there was no need for a manager or a coach.

"I have made the boys aware of this. They know it anyway because they want to be the winners."

Peter Shreeves's path to the managerial chair has followed in much the same way as that of his predecessor. Keith Burkinshaw stepped out of the shadows to become one of the most successful team bosses ever at White Hart Lane and Peter Shreeves at 44, could prove just as an effective leader.

Certainly he has no reservations about his situation. He says: "I have taken over a side which has won the UEFA Cup and on the field that night our average age was 23. We had skipper Steve Perryman unable to play because of suspension, Glenn Hoddle and Ray Clemence unable to play because of injury and Ossie Ardiles not fully fit on the sidelines. So we had four seasoned First Division players who were not in our starting line-up and I am hopeful that the only difference to the squad this season will be the inclusion of Clive Allen for Archibald. So I don't think I should fear this season but look forward to it and be excited by it which I truly am."

Star Profile

A look back at some of the Wanderers past players

A switch of wings brought a switch of fortunes for one of Wanderers' most respected post-war favourites.

The man was DOUG HOLDEN who was on the right wing for Wanderers when they tasted defeat in the 1953 FA Cup Final at Wembley when the honours went to another winger — Stanley Matthews who picked up his first winners' medal.

Five years later Bolton were back at the Empire Stadium again, this time with Holden on the left wing. And this time there was glory at the end with Wanderers beating Manchester United 2-0. Today as we continue our series on YESTERDAY'S HEROES we look at the career of DOUG HOLDEN — the quiet man of that successful Bolton side of the 'fifties.

THE Bolton official who spotted Doug Holden playing for Manchester YMCA certainly found a jewel of a player. For more than 10 seasons Doug displayed his pace and wing skills on the First Division stage winning five England caps and playing more than 500 League games in the colours of Wanderers and Preston North End.

Burnden Park supporters will remember the talents of the Manchester lad — talents as a goal maker rather than a goal scorer. But Doug was to surprise many when he actually got on the scoresheet in a Wembley final.

That was in 1964 when he played for Preston against West Ham when North End went down 3-2. Holden scored the second of Preston's goals.

A second winner's medal would have brought a fitting end to Doug's career but it was not to be as the Second Division side went down to hot favourites West Ham.

Albert Douglas Holden, born in September 1930, signed for Wanderers as an amateur in 1948 and a year later turned professional. He made his League debut against Liverpool at Anfield on November 10, 1951 after playing in only a dozen reserve team matches.

He began his League career on the left wing but it was as a right winger that he really made his name, rarely missing a first team game other than through injuries until he was transferred to Preston on November 13th 1962.

He made 419 League appearances for Wanderers in 11 seasons in the first team, scoring 40 goals.

They raved about him in Bolton, but it took 10 years for the England selectors to recognise his talents. Overshadowed up to that point — as was every other winger in the country — by Matthews and Finney, his first representative honour came in March 1959 when he was selected for the Football League against the League of Ireland in Dublin.

A month later, after hardly the most impressive of games against the Irish, the full England cap came along against Scotland at Wembley. After that he was allowed to show his wing skills against Italy, Brazil, Peru and Mexico, notching a total of five full England caps.

In 1960, after more than 10 years loyal service to the Wanderers, Doug received a benefit cheque for £1,000, an increase on the normal £750 benefit awarded for loyal service in those days.

After leaving Preston, Doug emigrated to Australia with his family in 1965, where he played for and coached Hakoah, later achieving the distinction of playing for the Australian national side.

Returning to England he had a spell as manager of Southern League club Dartford before settling in business in the south. He now lives in Bedfordshire where he is a car salesman.

Typical of his unassuming character during his playing days, little is heard of Dougie Holden in the Bolton area these days. But those who saw him perform his trickery on the wings still harbour fond memories of the man.
